

Ooohs and ahhs were heard repeatedly during the time a “mentalist” performed on Friday night, July 31 at the Perkins County Fair. Among the amazing stunts that had the audience baffled was when Christopher Carter covered his eyes with coins, layered on a mask and duct tape, then identified (without touching) items presented from the crowd. Juliana Johnson is holding a volunteer fireman’s pager which the mentalist had no trouble using his psychic powers to identify. The performance kept everyone in suspense for an hour while he demonstrated his mental capabilities. Musical entertainment by the Mike Hagan Band followed until midnight. (Photo by Jan Rahn)
