

Those who unfortunately don't have their own garden can still enjoy some summer produce from a farmer's market held at the park on Fridays from 7:30-9:30 a.m. Linda Heitman of Elsie (right) and Jenni Sisson had baked goods available last week such as wheat breads, zucchini and banana breads and will plan to be at the turn-around on the west side of Grant City Park each Friday. The Heitmans own Double L Farm, and raise organic vegetables, along with pork and milking goats. They also sell fudge and free range eggs.
