

Librarian Robin Quinn created this Christmas tree made of donated and withdrawn library books at Hastings Memorial Library in Grant. Library guests are invited to enter a contest between now and the end of the year, guessing the number of books involved in the construction. (Photo by Samantha Goff)