

At the young age of five, Caylie Clouse of Utica, daughter of Spencer and Michelle Clouse, and granddaughter of Teresa and Monte Clouse of Grant, has made a donation of her hair to Locks of Love for the second time. She first donated when she was three, in August of 2010. Her most recent donation brings the total to approximately 20 inches. Locks of Love is a non-profit organization that creates hairpieces for children who suffer hair loss due to medical issues. (Courtesy photo)