

By Shari Friedel
Tribune Staff

Although conditions were optimal for golf with little wind and perfect temperatures, the difficult Kimball course gave the Perkins County golfers a challenge on Thursday, Sept. 17 at the Kimball Invitational.

Perkins County finished third, having enough golfers for a team score of 460. They were behind Mitchell in second with 444 points and Kimball, first place with 443.

Junior Emily Kiolbasa participated in her first meet of the season, after recovering from illness that kept her off the course for a few weeks.

Reading the greens at the Kimball course proved difficult for the ladies, who are used to their home course.

"We need to be more disciplined to slow down and study our shots around the green every hole," commented Coach Troy Kemling.

Team Results

1. Kimball 443
2. Mitchell 444
3. Perkins County 460
4. Garden Co. 465
5. Gering JV NS
6. Creek Valley NS
7. Bayard NS

Individual Results

1. Chelsea Murrell, Mit 92
2. Jacee Pilkington, Bay 95
3. Tori Hager, Kim 96
4. Amber Satur, Ger JV 107
5. Jeannie Kuskie, PC 107
6. Kelby Dickerson, Kim 108
7. Matty Lutz, GC 109
8. Janet Kuskie, PC 110
9. Emily Nelson, GC 111
10. Kacee Smith, Mit 112

Other PC Scores

- Emily Kiolbasa 119
Stephanie Reichert 124

Next Week

The golfers traveled to Ogallala Monday and are on the road again today (Thursday) for competition in Bridgeport.