

A well-attended cheer clinic for the younger set was held Saturday by the Perkins County cheerleaders and their coaches with 44 little girls who learned cheers and chants, then performed in the afternoon. Proceeds from the clinic go toward supplies for the Perkins County High School cheerleading program and toward college incidentals for seniors on the squad who will graduate. Participants include (Front row, l-r): Anley Sauder, Emmalee Parsley, Tessa Uehling, Emily Wilson, Cecilia Putnam, Malaya Naescher, Haley Dunn, Lexie Fisher, Michele Briggs, Madison Potts, Libby Cole, Maya Williams, Kaitlyn Freiberg, Zoe Baumgartner, Emily Cornelius, Casey Johnson, Ava Seger. Middle row: Mariah Curtis, Samantha Snogren, Sarah Cockerill, Hannah Cockerill, Ella Uehling, Mackayla Wallin, Mallory McClenahan, Sophia Plugge, Kailee Potts, Ava Reese, Hallie Fisher, Maggie Fisher, Kaitlin Meyer, Alyssa Briggs, Alyssa Coats, Samantha Patrick, Kaitlin Cook, Rachel Patrick. Back: Kayla Woodmancy, Courtney McClenahan, Kaylee Dilsaver, Morgan Turner, Shirley Wade, Katie Patrick, Peyton Woodmancy, Jessie Craig, Abby Skeels, Brooke Gamble, Savannah Schmitt, Miah Long, Autumn Anderson, Kylie Tucker, Lacey Jensen, Jessie Woodmancy. (Photos by Jan Rahn)