Perkins County High School Band as well as the Wallace High School Band have made it to the second round of the KNOP TV “Battle of the Bands.”

The competition which started with eight local high school bands has now been narrowed down to four bands.

The students were initially asked to perform their school song on camera, and when each band received the surprise news that they had been voted into semi finals they were asked to perform another song.

Now it’s time to do our part. To vote for these bands visit the KNOP TV website at <http://www.knopnews2.com> where you can view the bands’ performances and vote.

Let’s help our schools make it into the finals.
