

Dear Editor:

At my spring music program there were people leaving the gym and going up and down the bleachers and talking when we were singing and saying our parts.

It took us so long to get all our parts memorized. It felt like nobody appreciates our hard work.

Hailey Snyder

Nine years old, Third grade