Irrigators in the Upper Republican Natural Resources District will want to mark their calendar for June 10.

That's the day the URNRD board set for a public hearing on a new integrated management plan that specifically addresses compliance actions in water-short years.

Board members gave their unanimous approval to send the plan to a hearing during last week's regular meeting.

Members of the board's negotiating committee and management have been working with the Department of Natural Resources to forge an agreement acceptable to both parties.
