

The annual Wallace Fall Festival took place during beautiful weather over the weekend, with games, food, fun and laughter for all who attended. The two-day tribute to Wallace's heritage began the prior Sunday with a golf tournament, then lured a crowd Sept. 15-16 for a parade, rides, dance and many other events. The weekend's celebration of 125 years began early Saturday morning with a meal sponsored by the fire department, followed by a fun run/walk, parade, back-to-back entertainment or competition, more food and games, culminating toward evening with a demo derby, fireworks, more food and a street dance. Sunday afternoon featured a trap shoot, potluck and concert. A big hit on Saturday was an FFA-sponsored greased pig contest which gave onlookers reason to snort. (Right) Assistant football coach Joe Hesse claims the pig while one of his own players, Shane Anders, takes the tackle. See more Wallace Fall Festival photos in Local News. (Photo by Nora Jameson)