

Gardeners Connie Rubino (left) and Judy Tomasovich tend to their garden adjoined by several other plots within the community garden area adjacent to the Farm Service Agency. The garden spots are showing signs of a promised harvest later in the summer. The project is sponsored by the Grant United Methodist Church with funding from a Community Garden Project from the Peter Kiewit Foundation of Omaha totaling $1,240. Each group occupying the six plots will tend to their own garden with the expectation that they will keep their garden space 'in order' and share what they do not use with others, explained Grant UMC Pastor Nora Mendyk. (Photo by Jan Rahn)