

Construction at the new airport hangar at the Grant Municipal Airport was at a brisk pace on Monday afternoon. Crews were busy with a variety of tasks, taking advantage of the pleasant weather conditions. The project will help fill a need for storage space as the three bays in the hangar have already been rented by local pilots. (Photos by Tim Linscott)