

A wall will soon be put up at First and Logan to help stop erosion. A street project at the same location will also be conducted in the spring. City officials are currently setting up bids for the project. (Photo by Tim Linscott)