

UNK students make Deans' List

University of Nebraska at Kearney recently announced the names of students who have earned a place on the Deans' List for the 2013 spring semester.

To earn a place on the Deans' List, UNK students must complete at least 12 credit hours, with a 3.5 or better overall grade point average. Students who earned a 4.0 (all "A's") average are noted by an asterisk after their names.

Students earning a place on the Deans' List are Emily Kiolbasa*, Calla Mailand, Alecia Friedel, Jordan Mahnken, Max Jones and Evan Barkley from Grant; Jessica Day, Trevor Lee and Bert Ogg from Madrid; and John Lempke*, Danica Messersmith, Taylor Franzen and Laura O'Brien from Wallace.

In recognition of their academic achievements, Deans' List students receive a certificate from their respective deans.

Dahlkoetter earns 4.0 average

Danielle Dahlkoetter, daughter of Dennis and Cynthia Dahlkoetter of Grant, Neb., was named to the Dean's List at Morningside College for the 2013 spring semester.

Dahlkoetter had a perfect 4.0 grade point average for the semester.

Beck named to Dean's List

Kristin Beck has been named to the spring semester Dean's List at W.P. Carey School of Business at Arizona State University. Dean's List recognition is awarded to students enrolled in 12 or more credit hours and who earn a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.
